

576/11/11

GRAND CENTRAL TERMINAL, New York. Grand Central Terminal on 42nd Street, between Vanderbilt and Lexington Avenues. The largest and most costly railroad station in the world has a capacity for 200 trains and 70,000 passengers an hour and is the terminal of the New York Central lines and the N. Y. N. H. & Hartford R. R. covers an area of 70 acres and has 42 tracks for express trains and 25 tracks for suburban trains.

Back your good letter this morning. also one from William. was wondering what had become of you. They was pretty bad. all wish we have considered if taking your Papa had such nice weather to work. I am leaving for Akron this evening. had letter from Matilda yesterday saying they would be in on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. I had time to write letter now will write a long one on there. Glad to hear you love your mother

REGISTERED OR
THIS POSTAGE GUARANTEED
VALUABLE MAIL

Mr. L. W. Lehman
Lehman

R. F. J. #1